Introduction

St Angela's Ursuline School has close circuit television ("CCTV") systems to provide a safe and secure environment for pupils, staff and visitors, the installation is also in place to protect property.

This document sets out the accepted use, management and purpose of the CCTV systems and images and footage captured by the CCTV system. All usage complies with the Data Protection Act 1998 (DPA), Human Rights Act 1998 (HRA) and other relevant legislation (e.g. The Freedom of Information Act 2000).

This policy has been produced in line with the Information Commissioner's CCTV Code of Practice. The code of practice is to ensure compliance with legal obligations of the aforementioned acts.

There are a number of fixed cameras located at the registered site of St Angela's Ursuline School. Live images from the system are on permanent view at the site in non-public areas. Recorded and live images from the cameras can be viewed by accessing the IT network. Access to the images is password protected and restricted to a limited number of authorised staff.

Purpose

The school uses the CCTV system to provide a safer, more secure environment for students and staff and to prevent bullying, vandalism and theft. Essentially, it is used for:

- Protect the building and assets;
- Assist in the prevention and detection of crime;

Location

Cameras are located in areas where the school has identified a need, and to support other safeguarding activities. They will not be used in areas where users of the building have a heightened expectation of complete privacy e.g. changing rooms or toilet stalls.

Overview and Maintenance of the CCTV System

The system is owned by St Angela's Ursuline School, the day-to-day management of the CCTV system is the responsibility of the site manager, which includes responsibility for regular checks and ensuring that the equipment is properly recording and that cameras are working.

An appointed contractor (IMS Systems Limited) maintains the system under an annual maintenance contract that includes periodic inspections and maintains the CCTV system.

The contractor is responsible for ensuring that:

- The school is informed of changes in legislation regarding CCTV systems;
- The date and time reference are accurate;
- Suitable maintenance and servicing is undertaken to so that clear images are recorded;
- Cameras are protected from vandalism to ensure that they remain in working order.

CCTV signs will be prominently placed at strategic points and at entrance and exit points of the sites to inform staff, pupils, students, visitors and members of the public that a CCTV installation is in use.

Although every effort has been made to ensure maximum effectiveness of the CCTV system it is not possible to guarantee that the system will detect every incident taking place within the area of coverage.

The school's CCTV system records visual images only and does not record sound. Both video and static images can be captured from the system by authorised users.
